EXCITING AFFAIR AT AURORA, INDIANA—
ESCAPE AND CAPTURE OF A PAIR OF RUNAWAY NEGROES.—We learn from the officers of the steamer Priores that quite an exciting affair took place, night before last, at Aurora, Ind., in regard to a couple of negroes who had escaped from Hamilton, Kentucky, and crossed the river at the former place, where they remained secreted until detected by their masters, who, as soon as the exodus had been discovered, started in pursuit. The parties belonged to a couple of men named Arnold and Comnor, and when they had been ferretted out and an endeavor made to return them, a desperate effort was made by their friends to secure their final escape, but being overpowered, the runaways were finally taoverpowered, the rufawaya were finally ta-ken back to Kentucky. Clubs, bowlders and oven pistols were freely used in the encounter, but, so far as we were able to learn, no one was seriously injured.

A JUVENILE FATALIST.—We know a little boy, not more than five years of age, who, apparently, believes in the doctrine of fatalism as firmly as did the Stoics. To him all things are subject to fate, and take place by an invincible necessity, which exists in the things themselves. He proclaims his peculiar ideas in a manner wholly his own, and takes advantage of every opportunity to promulgate them. A day or two ago, as most boys are in the habit of doing, when he had no fear of detection, he went to the cupboard, and was helping himself to some sweet-meats and preserves, when an aurt, of whom he is quite fond, entered the room, and detected him in the indulgence of his appetite. "Oh, you little pilferer," said she, "don't you know that it is naughty to steal?"

"No, aunty," replied he, "is it wrong?"

"Yes," said his aunt, thinking she had an opportunity to teach him a great moral lesson, "God dislikes little boys who take things that don't belong to them; and if your playmates should discover it they would call you a thief, and you wouldn't like that, would you?"

"Well, Aunt Allie." said the heteroelitic

Meeting of the Democratic County Executive Committee met yesterday morning, at Hannan's Hall, for the purpose of making the necessary arrangements for the election of delegates to the State Convention, to be held at Columbus on the 24th inst., to nominate State officers and select an electoral ticket. Fifteen members were present, C. J. W. Smith occupying the chair.

Dr. Muscroft, from the committee lately appointed to report some plan to prevent fraud and unfairness at primary meetings, presented a written report, stating that the committee were of the opinion that if the cover of night could be removed the elections would be fairly conducted, and recommended the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That all primary meetings for the election of delegates and committee men be held between the hours of twelve and two o'clock in the day time.

As the attendance was small, the report and resolution were both laid over for further action.

A resolution was then adopted to the effect that the Democracy be requested to assemble in the various wards and townships of the county, between the hours of six and half-past seven o'clock, on Monday, the 21st inst., for the purpose of electing delegates to the State Convention. The following apportionment was then made:

Total.

The following resolution was then offered, and adopted by a unanimous vote.

Resolved, That in all Democratic Primary Meetings for the election of delegates to State Conventions, certificates of the officers of ward and township meetings shall be conclusive evidence of the election of such delegates as may hold them without any intervention from this Executive Committee.

After some discussion in regard to the financial condition of the Committee, the meeting adjourned.

OBITUARY—TABLUTE TO THE MEMORY OF C. DAVIES JONES.—At a meeting of the merchants and others, friends and acquaintances of the late C. Davies Jones, held at No. 94 Pearl-street, yesterday afternoon, W. H. Neff was called to the Chair, and, having stated that the object of the meeting was to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of the departed, and to offer condolements to his family, the following was unanimously adopted:

WHERMAS, OUR HEAVENDY FATHER, in the exercise of a Providence which, though inscritably, he know to be "Allwise," has suddenly sentingly the following was unanimously adopted:

W. H. Neff, R. M. Bishop and Peter Neff, sen., impressing upon all present the importance of pondering well the lesson which this sad dispensation should teach us. It was also disponsation should teach us. It was also the Resolved, That the merchants of this city meet at No. 94 Pearl-street, at two o'clock this afternoon, and proceed to the funeral in a body, and that the Secretary notify the family of the same.

The following was also presented, and on motion ordered to be published:

motion ordered to be published:

It is with the deepest regret that we are called upon to chronicle the death of Mr. C. Davies Jones our late partner in business, who so enddenly departed this life last evening. During his association with us, which has occupied the short space of six teen months, a most ardent attachment was formed. We enjoyed an intercourse with each other of the most agreeable and friendly nature, and his warm heart, mild manners, and amiable disposition, not only won for him many friends, but also the respect and love of all who knew him. We deeply feel the loss, which has thus befallen us, and his lamily, and to them we tender our most heartfelt ey meathies.

AMUSEMENTS.

Woon's Theater.—Mr. Ellsler's benefit last night was not attended so well as it should have been, although the audience was vary fair. The performance was quite an agreeable one, and, to judge from the applause, passed off to the entire satisfaction of all who were present. Mr. Ellsler is an excellent manager and a good actor. In his managerial career he has been eminently successful, and, in consequence of his untiring efforts to please, the establishment throughout the season has had a fair share of patronage, all of which is due to his skill. He has taste, judgment and tact, and has made many friends by the careful manner in which he made his selection of stars, and we are glad to state that he has, apparently, at least, been appreciated by the lovers of amusemins. Last night he was surprised by the presentation of a hundred dollars, which was collected among his friends, and is an excellent proof of the esteem in which he is held.

To-night Mr. and Miss Sichings appear in the domestic drams of The Blind Man's Daughter, the operatic burietts of The Spirit of the Rhine and Lore in 1776. Wood's THEATER,-Mr. Ellsler's benefit las Minstrels performed last night to a large audience. They are an excellent company, and all who are fond of amusements of this kind should not fail to see them.

NATIONAL THEATER.—The Ravels with pantomimes full of life and incident, and a good ballet, and a givenile wonder, are still performing at the National to crowled houses. Bianco, La Fete Champeter and The Vesition Carnival are all on the bill for this evening.

SPAULDING & ROGERS'S NEW ORLEANS CIRCUS will be in the city in about ten days. The company is complete in every department, and will furnish amusement for the million, and, we doubt not, the million will visit it.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.

WASHINGTON, May 8. SENATE—A communication was received from the Postmaster-General relative to dead letters, and referred to the Committee on Postoffices.

Several unimportant memorials, &c., were presented.

Mr. Pearce offered a resolution to provide for the observation of the total eclipse of the sun on the 15th of July next. It authorizes the employment of a vessel to transport not more than five astronomers to some point where the eclipse can be best observed. Mr. Pearce made some remarks in support of the resolution.

Mr. Brown expressed the apprehension that it would cost too much. A similar expedi-it would cost too much. A similar expedi-tion was fitted out before to determine the parallex of the sun, and instead of $5,000, it cost $50,000.

Mr. Iverson believed that the Government had no such power as that contemplated in the resolution. It was an off-shot of old the resolution. It was an off-shot of old Whiggery. Mr. Pearce said that if the Senator meant Whiggery,

Mr. Pearce said that if the Senator meant to say he was an off-shot of old Whiggery, he was correct. He adhered to that party as long as it existed. He would adhere to the Democratic party with equal fidelity so long as it remained what it now was, the only conservative party in the country. If the Senator meant more, he was mistaken. The Coast Survey, to which this matter belonged, was established before the Whigparty existed. After further debate the resolution was agreed to. Mr. Brown presented a bill for deepening the channels of rivers emptying into the Gulf of Mexico, and authorizing certain States to levy tunnage dues. Referred. Mr. Davis's territorial resolution came up. Mr. Clingman finished his remarks commenced on Monday, arguing at length in favor of Congressional non-intervention, and the propriety of leaving the matter to the decision of the courts and against putting a candidate for Presidency on a platform on which he could not be elected. In the course of his remarks he referred to Douglas, Hunter, Johnson and others, as equally good Democrats whom he would be happy to support.

Mr. Benjamin followed. He spoke at some ter, Johnson and others, as equally good Democrats whom he would be happy to support.

Mr. Benjamin followed. He spoke at some length, asserting that the Cincinnati Platform, properly construed, was sufficient. Under what circumstances was that Platform offered at Charleston? It was with the understanding that it had two interpretations. Mr. Pugh denied this.

Mr. Benjamin replied that it was admitted time and again in the Convention. It was avowed, also, that if the Convention put upon it that the clitizens of the South had a right to hold property in the Territories, and the Legislature had no right to affect that right, that not a single Northern State could be carried. That was a fraud upon the good faith and honor of the Democracic party. It was unworthy of the Democracy to go into the canvass on a platform wearing two aspects. He would enter into the contest on no such platform. Let their principles be biazened in letters of light upon their banner, and upon them let them stand or fall.

Mr. Clingman contended that the Cincinnati platform embraced all the principles requisite for a candidate.

Mr. Douglas proposed to reply to Mr. Davis
